The humble beginning of Creative Textile & apparel services goes back 17 years when I was in the United States and entered the textile trade after attending the Philadelphia College of Textiles and services. My experience in the textile sector began when I worked for a clothing company in the US for several years. This was indeed a very enriching experience as I gained much knowledge of the apparel and textile market, especially given their role in the retail sector.

After accumulating vast knowledge in the apparel industry, I returned to Pakistan, where I continued to grow my company. I have a very competent staff who is extremely diligent, dedicated, hard-working and knowledgeable, with over five years of experience in apparel and textiles. Basically, we are the eyes and ears of customers.

Market Intelligence:

We regard the projection of market intelligence as one of the pivotal roles of any sourcing firm, as these permit the customer to make informed decisions.

We use or have devised the following ways of collecting and transmitting this valuable commodity.

- One-on-one merchandiser to buyer, totally focused as it happens.
- Weekly market intelligence report. Customer-focused and general in content.
- “Bushwhacking” is an exercise whereby, at the beginning of the two primary buying seasons of spring and fall, all our office merchandisers go forth, to the various markets, for several days, to collect market information on new fabrications, the latest technologies, innovations, new factories and market news. The underlying criteria are to discover the “new” and not come up with what’s already known.
- Bi-annual market survey reports are the general reports of a particular market, and much of it is based on information collected during whacking by its format more general in content.

Market Intelligence:

The basis of our order follow-up and tracking is monitored by our work-in-progress report.

On a specific date of each week, quality controllers and merchandisers meet for a total review of orders especially geared to anticipate any production hurdle.

Problems represent opportunities to effectively employ our initiative to come up with creative and practical solutions to resolve each issue.

Our merchandisers are not order takers, but they are members of the buyer's team in a sale plan. The office manager is required to make a semi-annual business plan, including targeting each customer for further development.

Customer Care:

We know that our customer has a choice, and our aim is for that choice to be creative Apparel Sourcing, where we are totally dedicated to customer service.

In order to be the best, we must give the best professional SERVICE to our customers, because we know that is only possible by focusing on our customer's business and their requirements we will go the extra mile and come up with ingenuity and brilliant ideas which will demonstrate that we can MAKE THE DIFFERENCE as a company, our strategy is to create sustained value for our customer for better than those of competitors.

Impressive Delivery:

The on-time delivery of a product is quite an essential need of a buyer. We strive to bridge between buyer and factory so that delivery is not affected in any way and the product is shipped out on the vessel that the buyer has desired
